Visited Cheluve Urs' Laya in Fort Mohalla. All the houses composing this infected locality have been completely evacuated, and the two houses acquired have been demolished, so that there is now a clear lane for free ventilation and sanitation along the line of houses forming the eastern side of the square block of houses known as "Cheluve Urs' Laya". This clearance and complete evacuation as well as the evacuation of some houses in Agasabeedi, which is the other infected locality of this portion of the city, viz., Fort Mohalla, has already had the desired effect of arresting plague.

And to-day it is very gratifying to note that the birthday of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress has been characterized by a clean bill of plague throughout the city, as neither fresh attacks nor deaths due to plague occurred in any of the wards for the first time since the outbreak of indigenous plague in Mysore City.
